

Week 3

Group Discussion Questions

How would you describe your parents' attitudes toward money and giving when you were a kid? If they were church-goers, were they tithers?

To what extent do your attitudes about money reflect those of your parents? Give an example.

Who in your life today would you describe as a generous person? How do they show their generosity?

Doyle told the story of a man who tithed when his yearly salary was modest, but then felt like he couldn't afford to tithe when his income had greatly increased. What's the problem with that kind of thinking?

What would you say are some of the biggest barriers that seem to prevent Christians from tithing?

To what extent do you agree with the statement, "We rob ourselves of blessings when we choose not to tithe and be generous"? Can you give an example of how you have been blessed at a time when you were faithful in your giving?

Was there anything else from the reading or teaching this week that you wanted to discuss?
